HOLIDAY TOLL REACHES 430;
TWO DIE ON L. BUCKS ROADS

Community Survey
Gets Big Response

There was a wonderful response to the first week's Community Survey, and as soon as possible, there will be an announcement as to which Courier-Times readers proved "the best judges of advertising" the first week.

All the fine letters, from all sections of Lower Bucks County, are being carefully checked and arranged so every merchant can get the benefit of the suggestions.

Look up the ad on Page 12 today and do your share in the Survey this week. The ballots tell us which ads you think will do the advertisers the most good — and now — this week — we want you to tell us what you don't like about the ads.

Don't try to be an expert. All ads are written for you readers. Just tell us what you do not like. It will be very helpful if you will indicate why you do not like certain ads and why you like other ads.

Just tell us your likes and dislikes in your own way. Your letters, explaining your reasons, can be most helpful in guiding us to serve you better.

We learn from the ballot what you prefer, but now we want to know what you don't like, and why you like some ads and don't like other ads.

Since shopping is one of the most important activities of any family and since every merchant is eager to conduct his business in a way that will bring him more and more pleased customers, this

Ike Challenges Russians;
Studies Arkansas Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today challenged Russia to make the next move toward an East-West disarmament agreement.

The President, speaking at his news conference, took a pessimistic view of any early break in the disarmament deadlock.

He said he does not now see any further constructive step the United States and its allies can make on disarmament at this time.

Something, he said, must happen on the other side — referring to Russia.

Eisenhower added that a Soviet policy change does not seem likely, but there could possibly be some change in the Kremlin's position which is not visible at the moment.

The President also said today

Good Evening!

Back to the salt mines.

Vacation season over and it's life in earnest again until next spring's thaw. If you don't believe it, behold the little codgers trudging reluctantly toward the sound of school bells.

Not a bad summer, however, everything considered.

Record drought, record heat, record emotional upheaval, record crowds on the beaches, in the mountains, and despite the alleged shortage we never gobbled so many roasting ears in our life. What more can you want in one season?

Some 426 Americans dead from highway accidents as this is written and another long weekend of national tragedy and shame. And, of course, untold thousands maimed and untold thousands saved from death by the grace of God.

The pity of it is there didn't have to be a single highway mishap. In every case, somebody somewhere goofed.

However, have you noticed? Color splashing the woodlands?

Autumn foliage hinting advent of the glory days for those with eyes sensitive enough to see beauty of nature at its finest. No frost yet, but the pumpkins are pretty as a picture.

Phillies on a hitting binge yesterday in clobbering the Dodgers and knocking them clear out of contention. Trouble is they started two months too late.

Eagles haven't looked too good as yet, what with three exhibition game losses, but they do remind you football days will be here sooner than you expect.

Well, he did it again, this Sandy O., of ours. Made it look so easy we felt like an interloper taking up where we left off, a couple of weeks ago to discover again Lower Bucks is the best in the land.

The guest watched in amazement as the small boy of the family pounded nails into the furniture with a hammer. "Holy cow!" he said to the father. "How can you afford to let him do it?"

"It's easy," said the father. "We get the nails wholesale."

Experience is the best teacher. And it should be, considering what it costs.

Crowning Beauty

MISS LEVITTEEN, NANCY NEMETH

Levittown Queen
Dates The Field

A sweet, hazel-eyed brunette reigns today as Levittown's top teen after being selected Miss Levittown in Saturday's pageant.

Nancy Nemeth, 16, of 15 Bald Cypress Lane, wants to be a model. With a quick smile, well proportioned architecture and the "girl next door" look, she seems well on her way.

Ready For School

A junior in Pennsylvania High School, Nancy is very anxious to begin school.

"I am especially interested in languages and can't wait for classes to begin," she said. School starts Thursday.

As for boys, Nancy said, "I like them all. I date but there is nobody special."

Her favorite pastime is dancing and she was the winner in a jitterbug contest at the Magnolia Park pool this year.

After dancing, Miss Levittown is fond of movies as a pastime. Nancy has lived in Levittown since 1953 with her parents, Mr.

Troops Block
Integration
At School

ATLANTA (UP) — Racial integration of public schools spread uneasily further into the southland today, but Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus defied a federal order and blocked with troops integration in a Little Rock school.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell began an immediate investigation of the use of the National Guard troops to prevent obedience to the court orders.

President Eisenhower told his news conference today that the overall progress of school integration is bound to be slow. He said tension between the races can be solved only by approaching the problem calmly.

A shower of pebbles, hoots and jeers greeted 13 Negroes who entered the Sturgis, Ky., High School under watchful eyes of state troopers. No one was injured.

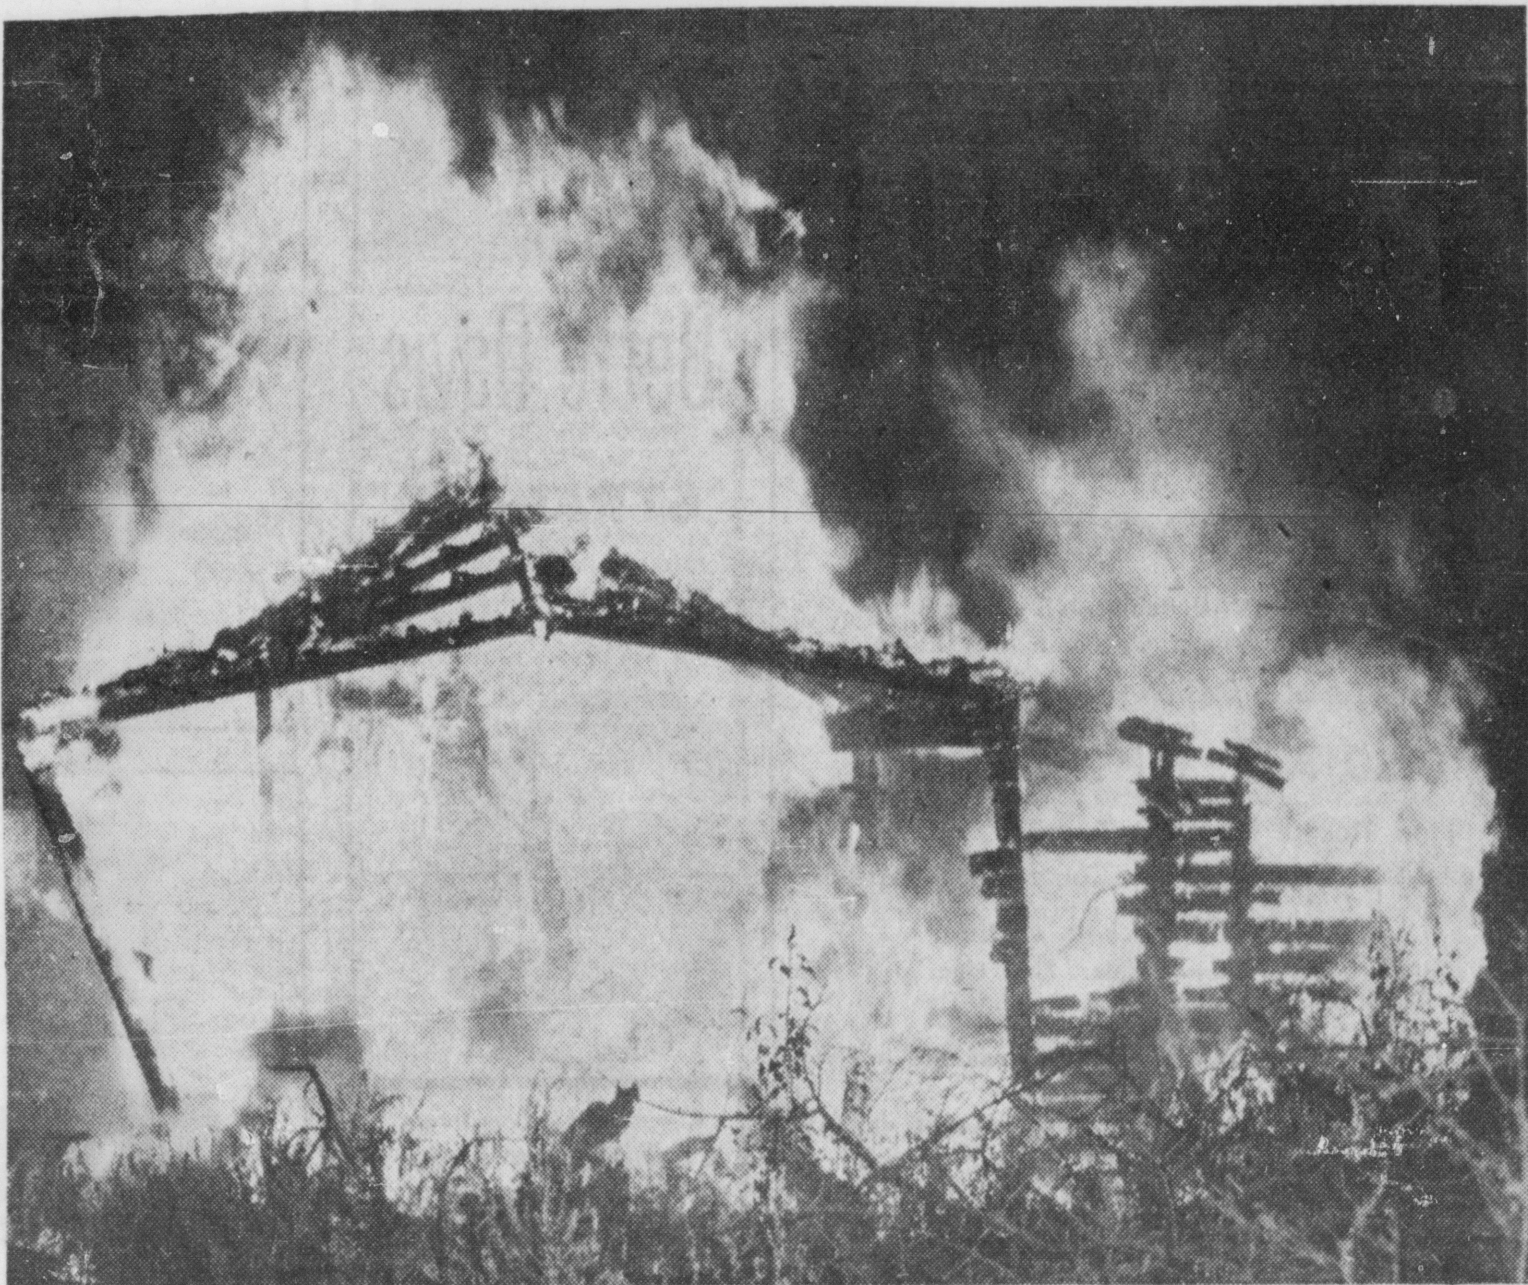

"Get out of here you old black man" were words shouted at the Negroes who arrived in a five-car caravan at the Kentucky integration hot spot. But the crowd of some 200 persons outside the school began to disperse as the Negroes entered the building.

Little Rock's Central High School, where about 15 Negroes were to have enrolled today, was a tense scene of bristling armor of the National Guard — half tracks, rifles, clubs and pistols.

A cordon of some 250 guardsmen and state troopers — being used by the Arkansas governor as an "arm of the militia", ringed the school to prevent integration. The attempt was 100 per cent successful. None of the Negroes showed up.

County Highway Office
Is Reorganizing Personnel

Maintenance personnel of the Bucks County office of the State Highway Department are being reorganized today in Doylestown, following a general order to all highway maintenance offices throughout the state.

The new order will affect 31 highway caretakers in Bucks county who will be replaced by 11 foremen to be chosen from the ranks of the 31 caretakers. It does not mean that any of the caretakers will be dismissed.

In the State as a whole the maintenance supervisory force will be reduced from the present 1,723 caretakers to 848 foremen although the total number of maintenance workers will remain the same, approximately 11,000.

The new system is already in operation in 11 counties of the State, according to Superintendent Harry C. Lancaster, of the Doylestown office, who notified his caretakers of the change yesterday.

Under the old system there were 1323 caretakers in the State. They will be replaced by 528 foremen chosen wherever feasible from the list of caretakers. The caretakers who do not become foremen will be assigned

Doubts Are Kilt
About A Scotsman

LONDON (UP) — If pretty Pat Cottee ever doubted it, she knows it for a fact now — a Scotsman doesn't wear anything under his kilt.

Her boyfriend, Pvt. Peter Gannon, was forced to fling aside his kilt right before her eyes and jump into the River Thames to save a drowning man, Pat's blushes notwithstanding.

Gannon, a student in the famed Gordon Highlanders Regiment, was sitting with Pat on a towpath along the Thames

Saturday night when they heard a splash. A man had fallen into the river.

Off came Peter's tunic and kilt, on came Pat's blushes. But while Gannon made the rescue, Pat ran for help.

"I couldn't stop to think of Pat," Gannon said. "I just had to take my kilt off. If I had gone into the water wearing it the weight most likely would have carried me under."

Later, Pat said she was very proud of him "but I can't help blushing."

Lower Bucks Countians returning to work after the Labor Day week-end looked back on the tragic record of two fatal automobile accidents and a drowning.

However, a United Press count at 1 p.m. e.d.t. today showed at least 430 highway deaths for the holiday which began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight. In addition, 92 persons drowned and 63 were killed in miscellaneous accidents for an overall holiday toll of 594.

California had the highest toll by far with 50 traffic fatalities. New York followed with 29, Texas 26, Ohio 22, Illinois and Pennsylvania 20 each, North Carolina 18, South Carolina 17 and Wisconsin 15.

Four states posted fatality — free records. They were Vermont, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Delaware.

Killed in Lower Bucks County were:

Mrs. Lucille Clayton, 40, of 1014 Lindale Ave., Trenton, who died at Lower Bucks County Hospital Saturday night after the car in which she was riding jumped the Route 13 Freeway at Tullytown.

Eugene A. Robinson, 54, of 923 W. Lexington Ave., Baltimore, Md., whose car struck a rail abutment as he drove on Buck Road in Northampton Township early Sunday morning.

James Lipsack, 13, of 1300 Park Ave., Eddington, who drowned in Neshaminy Creek at Bridgewater, Friday.

There were also a number of less serious Bucks accidents over the holiday weekend that marks the end of the summer vacation season.

Mrs. Clayton was the wife of George Clayton, owner of Jim's Diner, Old Route 13, Falls Township. She was riding with her husband, two daughters, and Helen Sidelnikow, 16, of 2213 Wilson Ave., Bristol, a waitress at the diner. All occupants were injured.

Tullytown police said Clayton was driving south on the Route 13 Freeway, near the Levittown exhibition center, at 9:10 p.m. Saturday when he left the road. Bound toward Bristol, the car went left off the road near the cut-off for old Tullytown, dropped three and one-half feet to a depression, continued 100 feet, then hit the concrete abutment.

The car turned over and was a total wreck.

It was the first fatal accident in Tullytown in a quarter century, according to Police Chief John B. Walterick. Twenty-five years ago, Charles Pope, about

The Band Played On

A throng of 3,500 enjoyed the concert presented by the U.S. Army Field Band under the auspices of the Levittown Kiwanis Club and the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the Highway Safety Program.

nine, was roller skating on Main St. near the Methodist Church when a drunken driver hit and killed him, the chief said.

Investigating the fatal accident was Patrolman Ben Parto, of Tullytown police, assisted by Patrolmen Richard Chalifoux and Elliott Bainbridge, Falls Township police.

Mrs. Clayton's death was attributed to cerebral injuries that caused internal bleeding. She suffered a fractured skull and fractured leg and arm.

Her husband suffered six broken ribs, a fractured arm, a concussion, and a laceration above the eye. Levittown Emergency Squad took the couple to Lower Bucks County Hospital.

Veterans Hospital

Yesterday, Bucks County Rescue Squad took Clayton to the Veterans Hospital at East Orange, N. J., where he is a patient with a stomach ailment. He had been home on a weekend pass. On the way to East Orange, Clayton told the squadmen he remembered nothing of the accident, that everything "blacked out."

Bucks County Rescue Squad took Phyllis Clayton, 12, and Virginia, 6, to the Lower Bucks Hospital with Miss Sidelnikow. Phyllis suffered shock and a spinal injury; Virginia, a fractured arm and face bruises and Miss Sidelnikow, back injuries.

The grim task of removing the injured persons from the wrecked car was followed by a collection of $129.06 in change, spread outside the car. Scattered were $67.70 in nickels, 16 one-dollar bills, $7.25 in quarters, a $20 bill, and a ten, and a penny and a dime.

The car stopped in five inches of water. The money was receipts from the diner. After closing, Clayton was taking Miss Sidelnikow home from work, police said.

On Bucks Road

Robison was killed at 12:45 a.m. Sunday as he drove on Buck Road near Holland.

Police Chief Jack Frey, of Northampton, said he lost control of the car and hit an abutment of the Trenton railroad cut-off. There were no passengers.

Trevose Heights Rescue Squad took Robinson to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia. He was dead on arrival.

The body of James Lipsack was removed from Neshaminy Creek Friday night at 7:45. Artificial respiration was of no avail. The father, John Lipsack, said he warned James against swimming because he was not a good swimmer. A search was started when clothes were discovered on the creek bank.

Levittown Girl

A 16-year-old Levittown girl was injured when the car she was riding in struck a parked car 10:20 last night. The girl, Charlotte Franca, 45 Midwood Lane, Magnolia Hills, was treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital for contusions of the right arm and fractured ribs.

She was riding with John G. Hartley, 17, of 7 Friendly Lane, Farmbrook, Levittown. Hartley told Bristol Township police he fell asleep while driving and struck the car of Howard Fisher, 135 Magnolia Drive, which was parked in front of his house.

Bristol Township police report they investigated seven other minor accidents over the week end.

the scene of another accident, according to Middletown Township police. Patrolman Frank McKenna said a car driven by Albert W. Milliner, of Bound Brook, N.J., crashed into the rear of another vehicle operated by Stanley W. Sher, 23, of 21 Cactus Road, Cobalt Ridge, Levittown.

No one was injured. Damage was estimated at $500 to each car.

A family of five was shaken Friday night in a rear-end auto accident at Route 13 and Beaver St., Bristol.

Borough police said Theodore Dale, 26, of Walnut Grove Farm, Newportville Road, had stopped at the traffic light when his car was hit in the rear. The other driver was Nello Parini, 45, of 44 Autumn Lane, Appletree Hill, Levittown. Both cars were traveling on Route 13.

Parini, driving a truck did not stop in time for the red light, according to Sgt. Gaspar Favoroso and Patrolman John Tortu. He will get a summons for reckless driving.

Children Shaken

Dale's wife, Joanne, 22, received a neck injury in the crash. The children, shaken, were not injured, police said. They are Robert, five; Theodore, 3, and Deborah, 2. They were treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital.

A Trenton driver fell asleep Sunday, bashed into a mail box in Lower Makefield, rolled down the river bank and stopped several feet from the water.

Carl Klotz, 24, of 15 Prospect Ave., was driving along River Road, Lower Makefield Township. Klotz, driving his brother Richard's car, told Lower Makefield Police Chief Robert Watson's he "dozed off for just a second."

Police estimated damage to the car at $300. The driver will receive a summons for reckless driving, Chief Watson said.

Alice Rittler, 3 of 462 Pine St., Bristol, was admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital for observation after a car struck her last night in the street near her home.

She was treated for cuts of the forehead, nose and knees. Sgt. Anthony Esposito and Patrolman Henry Spinelli, of borough police, said Alice darted from between two parked cars when she was hit.

The driver was identified as Leonard Angus, Jr., 32. No address was given.

Near Fatal Spot

One hundred yards north of Tullytown's fatal accident, one and one-half hours earlier, two women were injured in a two-car crash at Route 13 Freeway and Old Route 13.

Chief Walterick and Patrolman Parto said Mrs. A. E. Levy, 61, of Newark, driving west, ignored the stop sign to cross the Freeway. She collided with a car driven by Walter J. Olkowski, 31, of 2649 Salmon St., Philadelphia, heading north on the Freeway.

Mrs. Levy suffered shock. Her passenger, Mrs. Catherine Curran, 53, of Newark, bruised a knee. Both were treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital and discharged.

Burlington Woman

A Burlington woman who once worked for Kaiser Metal Products, Inc., Bristol, as a river-assembler died early Saturday in a two-car crash at Pemberton and Smithville Roads, five miles east of Mt. Holly, N.J.

New Jersey State Police said she was Miss Catherine R. Reppic, 43, of Columbus Road. Police said she drove through a stop sign and collided with a car carrying five South Jersey men.

Miss Reppic was laid off from her job in the Kaiser aircraft division in November, 1955.

to jobs either as equipment operators or laborers. They will be paid the wage prevailing for the job they do.

Superintendent Lancaster said the new policy will save the State approximately $4,000,000 annually and with Bucks county as one of the largest counties in the State, the saving will be considerable.

Bucks county is the first county in District No. 6 — composed of Bucks, Chester, Montgomery, Delaware and Philadelphia counties — to undergo the change.

Levittown Squad To Solicit Stonybrook

The Levittown Emergency Squad will solicit funds in the Stonybrook section of Levittown from 6:30 to 9 p.m. today.

Squad officials said the drive will continue through the various sections until the community is covered. Solicitors will carry squad membership cards or other forms of squad identification.

3,500 Attend Concert By Army Band

Hundreds of children romped and stomped to the Mexican Hat Dance last night at the U.S. Army Field Band concert in the band shell of the Levittown Shopping Center.

Approximately 3,500 persons listened to the hour and a-half concert marches of the John Philip Sousa variety, South American tangos, and a symphonic piece, "Tulsa." Children joined in on the hot dance.

"Gymnastics In Music" brought the house down. Six snare drummers stood before the band and performed exercises in perfect rhythm to the music. Stick transfers, shoulder-tapping were just the ticket to please the audience.

During intermission, George Loewe, a highway safety chairman from Philadelphia, gave a talk on highway safety and urged safe driving for the holiday and every day following.

William Bogane of the Levittown Kiwanis Club was chairman of the event co-sponsored by the club and the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bogane said, "We feel the concert was one of the most successful projects ever staged in Levittown, and there's a possibility we might bring the band back next year."

Woman Gets 40 Stitches After Auto Crash

A Levittown woman suffered numerous facial lacerations when the car driven by her husband bashed into a telephone pole on John Fitch Way, Trenton, Sunday.

Mrs. Alice Gribbon, 35, of 16 Russett Lane, Red Cedar Hill, was admitted to Mercer Hospital where 40 stitches were required to close numerous cuts on her face.

The hospital reported both her eye lids were cut as well as her forehead and other parts of her face. In addition her right arm was broken. The hospital stated she is resting "more comfortably" today.

She was riding with her husband Edward, 43, when the accident happened.

1957 Levittown-A-Rae 'Biggest And Best Yet'

(Levittown-A-Rae Pictures On Page 19)

The 1957 Levittown-A-Rae was "the best attended ever," and was probably the "biggest and best yet," spokesmen said.

The three-day event kicked off Friday night with exhibits and demonstrations on the shopping center mall. A general information booth, manned by Levittown Civic Association members, was set up to introduce new members to the various clubs and organizations.

A fishing contest at Lakeside, Saturday, opened Second day festivities. Water festivals were held at Levittown pools, weight-lifters demonstrated strength and skills on the mall, a pet parade was staged, the finals of the Miss Levittown contest were run off, and the evening was capped with a community dance and jitterbug contest.

Sunday, the Junior Olympics were held at the Country Club Park Pool, and a concert by the Lower Bucks County Band climaxed the affair.

A cat walked off with "Best of the Show" in fourth annual Pet Parade of the Levittown-A-Rae.

The animal, owned by Linda Bunce, 36 Butternut Road, was picked by Judges Joseph Segal, Dr. Robert Way, and Horace McNabb.

Sixty-six animals competed, including dogs, cats, turtles, a rabbit, a duck, hamsters and a frog. Loving cups were awarded to winners in seven categories. Five

Betterment Unit Starts Member Drive

The Levittown Betterment Association began a drive this week to become "the organization speaking for the majority of Levittowners" in an effort to get the first Levittown Negro family to leave.

Plans for a membership drive were made public at a meeting Saturday at the baseball diamond in the Levittown Shopping Center, attended by about 300 people.

Association leaders said Levittown has been divided into four sections, with captains, co-captains, and workers in each.

The site Saturday was decided on about an hour before meeting time, after plans for a hall were cancelled. Spokesmen said the turnout, after all the indecision over a site, was very good. State police had said such meetings would be illegal, but there was no interruption Saturday from police.

Tullytown police, under Chief John Walterick, were on hand. Association members nearly filled the stands, and many stood behind the stands.

The sections of Levittown and their captains are:

Area 1 — east of Levittown Parkway to eastward boundaries, under Jim Paul, 69 Nestingrock Lane, North Park.

Area 2 — Levittown Parkway west to Edgely Ave.; Newportville Road south to the shopping center, under John Bentley, 41 Autumn Lane, Appletree.

Area 3 — Edgely Ave. west to Route 413, including the following sections: Goldenridge, Indian Creek, Whitewood, Orangewood, Violetwood, Mill Creek Falls, and Plumbridge, under Francis X. Chester, 315 Goldenridge Drive.

Area 4 — All of Levittown in Middletown Township, with no captain appointed.

John Newell, temporary chairman of the Association, said there would be more public meetings. The crowd was orderly Saturday, and after the meeting many signed up as volunteers for the membership canvass.

Plans are to have workers go to each Levittown house for memberships.

Five Pools Jammed As Season Closes

Levittowners jammed the community's five pools yesterday closing out the most successful season ever, according to an LPRA spokesman.

More than 5,000 people held memberships in LPRA swim program this summer, most of course being children.

In the LPRA classes 3,000 beginners were entered and by the end of the summer most were moving into the advanced stage.

There were 800 persons in the advanced classes and more than 300 boys and girls and adults qualified as advanced swimmers.

In a rhythm swim group, 250 youngsters participated and 150 participated in junior life saving.

Sixty persons qualified as senior life savers this year, the spokesman said.

More than 350 boys and girls participated in the community swimming teams and Olympic hopefuls may emerge from the budding swimmers.

The Levittown spokesman said, "We are very happy with this year's turnout but expect to do even better next year as the youngsters grow a year older."

Chairs, Table Stolen From Snack Bar

Morrisville police are looking for a very comfortable thief who may be hiding in his back yard or in his patio.

He has the chairs and table to be comfortable.

Morrisville Officer Harry Tomlinson said 10 metal chairs and a metal table were stolen over the weekend from Jerry's Snack Bar on East Trenton Ave.

The chairs are valued at $3.50 each and the table is worth $12.

FBI File Secrecy Bill Is Signed By Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill to protect the secrecy of FBI files.

The measure also protects the files of Treasury narcotics and tax squad agents.

The new law, a watered-down version of the administration's original request, spells out new rules for federal trial courts to provide an accused person with statements witnesses gave to government agents which are to be used against him.

Increase Of 1,150 Expected

Enrollment at Bristol Township and Delhaas school systems will be about 1,150 higher than last year.

The biggest increase will come in the elementary schools, according to Dr. Guy F. Eberhart, regional superintendent. Enrollment in the 11 elementary schools is estimated at 5,774. Attendance last year was about 4,974.

An increase of about 350 is expected in the Delhaas system. Most of this will come at Delhaas High School, where 1,334 pupils are expected, compared to 1,042 for last year. Student population at Benjamin Franklin Junior High School will remain nearly the same with 1,859 compared to last year's 1,823.

Franklin will continue on half day sessions. Eighth grade and part of the seventh grade will attend morning classes which start at 7:50 a.m. and run to 12:12 p.m.

Ninth grade pupils and the rest of the seventh grade will go to school in the afternoon starting at 12:25 and running to 4:47. The seventh grade is divided geographically for the morning and afternoon sessions.

Dividing Line

The dividing line follows Mill Creek Road from the Levittown Parkway to Bristol-Oxford Valley Road then left to the turnpike. The line turns right and follows the turnpike to Route 413 and runs down 413 to Route 13. At 13 the boundary cuts over Newport Road to Grundy's corner, at Newportville Road at Neshaminy Creek.

Seventh grade pupils living east of this line will attend morning sessions. This includes the Stonybrook, Greenbrook, Farmbrook, Dogwood Hollow, Kenwood, Junewood, Violetwood, Yellowwood sections of Levittown; Edgely, Bloomsdale Gardens, Bristol Terrace, Bath Road communities, Winder Village, and Croydon.

Pupils on the other side of the line will attend afternoon sessions.

This includes the Magnolia Hill, Red Cedar Hill, Holly Hill, Appletree Hill, Crabtree Hollow, Oaktree Hollow, Indian Creek, Goldenridge, Orangewood, Whitewood, Blueridge, Plumbridge, and Mill Creek sections of Levittown; Newportville, Farmwood, West Bristol and Rockdale.

Tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades will be held at Delhaas where classes will start 8:20 a.m. and run to 3 p.m.

Hours at the elementary schools will be staggered to ease the problem of providing buses. The Ralph Waldo Emerson, James Buchanan, Community, William Penn, John Fitch and Thomas Jefferson schools start at 9 a.m. and run to 3:30 p.m.

The George Clymer, Croydon, George Taylor, Edgely, Lafayette, Maple Shade start at 9:30 a.m. and end at 4 p.m.

All township and Delhaas schools start Thursday with the exception of James Buchanan. The opening of the Buchanan school has been delayed until Sept. 16. The new school which has 28 rooms is not completed yet. Work was held up as the result of a labor dispute.

The township will have a total increase of 26 elementary class rooms this year. With the expected completion of the Buchanan district has closed down 10 temporary rooms in the Emerson, Fitch, Jefferson and Lafayette schools.

Besides the Buchanan school 14 new rooms were added to the Maple Shade School.

III Wind Blows Roof Off Patio

E. B. Glazier, 47 Candle Road, Cobalt Ridge, Levittown, had his nice, new patio spoiled over the Labor Day weekend.

An ill wind blew the aluminum roof of the patio right off and turned it over on the house garage.

Mr. Glazier said the wind was really kicking up about 1 p.m. Saturday and blew a neighbor's sheet off her clothes line and over the roof among other things.

Mr. Glazier said his patio roof was not fastened but now he intends to nail it down after seeing the wind work.

Handweaving Added To New Jersey State Fair

In recognition of the increasing interest in handwoven products the New Jersey State Fair has included a new division in the Domestic Arts Department and Mrs. Helen C. Lazarele, department director, announced there will be first and second place awards for luncheon cloths, place mats, chair set, handbag, shopping bag, table runner and rugs.

A sweepstakes prize of a five-year subscription to Handweaver and Craftsman, will be offered by the magazine. The New Jersey State Fair is one of 37 at which this award is being given.

Thousands At Work

Thousands of handweavers are now at work in the United States, both as hobbyists and professionals. In addition, handweaving is important as a craft in occupational therapy and in recreation projects.

Other new divisions this year include the hobby class, insect collections and oil paintings. There is also a special division for children desiring to exhibit pen and ink and pencil drawings. Entries in all divisions of the department will close on Sept. 11. The fair will open Sunday, Sept. 22, and close Sunday, Sept. 29.

Queen Entries

Entries in the Queen of the Fair contest must be in the New Jersey State Fair Office by Sept. 9. Poultry entries close Sept. 10; cattle and swine, Sept. 4; rabbit and cavy Sept. 14 and firemen's parade, Sept. 16.

Midget auto championship 100-mile race will be held on the opening day, Sept. 22; stock cars on Sept. 28 and big cars, Sept. 29. Jack Kochman's "Hell Drivers" will be on hand Sept. 23 and 27 and these are children's days. On the other afternoons there will be mule, pig and other races and circus acts.

Julius La Rosa, in person, will appear on Sunday and Monday evenings, Sept. 22 and 23 and "Havana Holiday," a four-act revue will be staged every night. Thursday, Sept. 26, will be New Jersey talent night and Friday, Inter-State Talent night. The Firemen's parade will be held Saturday, Sept. 28 at 7 o'clock.

Mother Miriam Theresa Is New Principal

L. Makefield To Consider Survey Firm

The Lower Makefield Township Board of Supervisors will consider a move to hire an engineering firm for a survey of possible sewer lines in the township at tonight's meeting.

Normally scheduled for the first Monday of the month, the regular session of the board is slated for tonight because of Labor Day.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at township hall on Edgewood Road, Lower Makefield.

Contracts Report

Claude Johnson, Lower Makefield supervisor, will report to the board on the contacts with engineering concerns on the question.

If the price is agreeable the board may consider hiring an engineering firm to survey the township to arrive at possible costs for sewer installation.

Lower Makefield has been considering the sewer installation for several months and the supervisors have been gathering material on the subject.

Other Authorities

Meetings were held with Morrisville and Falls Township sewer authorities to examine relative costs of the installation.

"Now we are attempting to find out what it will cost if we decide to build the line ourselves," Mr. Johnson said.

Yardley Man Heads Center For Rutgers

GEORGE A. TAPPER

The appointment of Prof. George A. Tapper, of Yardley, chairman of the Public Program of the Rutgers Institute of Management and Labor Relations, as director of the State University's Extension Center in Newark was announced today by Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, University President.

Prof. Tapper succeeds Prof. Hamilton Stillwell, who has resigned to become director of the University of Michigan's newly created Division of Adult Education. The appointment of Prof. Tapper became effective Sunday.

Joining the Rutgers faculty in November, 1955, he had been director of development and head of the Department of Political Science at Rider College.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, Class of 1939, he secured his A.M. from that university a year later and is currently enrolled there as a candidate for a Ph.D.

Following five years service with the Army during World War II, he holds the rank of major in the Reserves, serving with the Military Government School in Trenton.

Prof. Tapper is a member of the New Jersey Adult Education Association, New Jersey Education Association, Pi Gamma Mu, and the Industrial Relations Research Association. For the past year he has been assisting the Pennsylvania Athletic Association in its work with Little Leagues, and is also a member of the executive committee of the Yardley Cub Scouts.

Council Readies Apartment Report

The fate of the proposed apartment-building in Morrisville may be decided at Council's regular meeting next week.

The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Morrisville Borough Hall.

Council has passed the ordinance on its first reading providing for the building.

Little Opposition

A public hearing, as prescribed by law, was not very well attended last week and borough officials interpreted this as meaning there was little opposition to the apartment project, officials said.

Two more acceptable readings of the ordinance are needed before the measure can be voted into law.

Edward Mannix, chairman of the borough's ordinance committee, said both acceptances can come at the same meeting.

Louis Cahan, Trenton builder, has stated he would begin the project as early as possible after all legal questions were cleared.

GOP Confident Of Morrisville Lead For Total Voters

Philip E. Jones, Morrisville Republican party chairman, said results of last week's new registration contained "misleading figures."

"It's true the Democrats pulled more new voters in the count but the figures don't show the overall gain since the last election."

"These figures, which will be revealed at election time, might tell a different story," he said.

Francis A. Troilo, Democratic chairman, said the Democratic margin expresses "great public confidence in the Democratic regime in Morrisville Borough Council."

"Different View" "We don't see it that way," Jones said.

"Republicans still outnumber Democrats in three of the borough's four wards and we feel that is a truer indication of party sympathy," he stated.

Jones said the Democrats in council are operating on the theory of "tax and tax and spend and spend."

"This year's budget is the highest in the history of the council. We'd like to know where the money went."

"The Republicans tried to cut the taxes by three mills and cut the budget. The Democrats beat this down and have been spending like mad ever since."

Mr. Jones said the Republican school board did raise taxes but "we have something to show for it."

"The borough will see a new elementary school (Grandview) this year and a new high school started before too many months."

"Also cost more money to take part in the technical school planned for the area," he said.

"Troilo must be some sort of a prophet if he is predicting school taxes will go up next year."

"The school board people don't even know that yet," he said.

Argentine Newsman Plans Rotary Talk

Morrisville's Rotary Club will get a first hand picture of the newspaper business in South America at its club meeting Thursday.

The regular weekly session is listed for 6:15 p.m. at Pennsbury Inn.

The newspaperman, visiting from Argentina, will address the club on the progress of journalism in his country and in South America, generally.

Name of the visiting newspaperman was not immediately available.
